

DESCRIPTION OF A MISER.
BY SOUTHEY.

This man of half a million Had all these public virtues which you prize:
But the poor man rung never at his door:
And the old beggar at the public gate, Who, all the summer long, stands hat in hand,
He knew how vain it was to lift an eye To that hard face. Yet he was always found Among your ten and twenty pounds subscribers,
Your benefactors in the Newspapers.
His aims were money put to interest In the other world, donations to keep open A running charity account with Heaven:
Retaining fees against the last assizes.
When, for the trusted talents, strict account
Shall be required from all, and the old arch lawyer Plead his own cause as plaintiff.

STRANGER.
Believe you, Sir, these are your witnesses These mourners here, who from their carriages Gape at the gaping crowd. A good March wind
Were to be pray'd for now, to lend their eyes
Some decent rheum. The very hiring mute
Bears not a face blanker of all emotion
Than the old servant of the family!
How can this man have liv'd, that thus his death
Cost not the soiling one white handkerchief!!!

TOWNSMAN.
Who should lament for him, Sir, in whose heart
Love had no place, nor natural charity?
The parlor spaniel, when she heard his step, Rose slowly from the hearth, and stole aside With creeping pace; she never raised her eyes
To woo kind words from him, nor laid her head Uprais'd upon his knee, with fondling whine.
How could it be, but thus! Arithmetic.
Was the sole science he was ever taught;
The Multiplication table was his Creed
His Paternoster and his Decalogue When yet he was a boy, and should have breath'd
The open air and sunshine of the fields,
To give his blood its natural spring and play,
He in a close and dusky counting-house, Smoke dried, and sear'd, and shrivel'd up his heart
So, from the way in which he was trained up, His feet departed not; he toil'd, and moil'd.
Poor muckworm! through his three score years and ten
And when the earth shall now be shovel'd on him
If that which serv'd him for a soul were still Within its husk, 'twould still be dirt to dirt.
STRANGER.
Yet your next Newspapers will blazon him
For industry and honourable wealth,
A bright example.

Valuable Land for Sale.

By virtue of a decree of the high court of chancery of Maryland, will be disposed of at public sale, on Tuesday the 21st day of May next, at 12 o'clock, A.M. if fair, if not on the next fair day thereafter, the farm of the late John Gibson, Esq. called

"The Seven Mountains."

This property is situated in Anne-Arundel county, on the north side of Magothy river, and immediately on the shore of the Chesapeake Bay, about seventeen miles from Baltimore, and eight from Annapolis. It is one of the most desirable abodes in Maryland either for one who derives his support from agricultural pursuits, or a man of fortune who is desirous of obtaining an elegant rural retreat.

The soil is fertile, and abundantly stocked with wood, and is peculiarly well adapted to the culture of Indian Corn and Tobacco, and all the products of a garden. It bears every variety of the best and earliest vegetables, and its proximity to Baltimore, and the convenient water transportation which its situation affords, give it advantages as a market farm that are possessed by few others. It abounds with delicious grapes, and the choicest grafted fruit trees in full bearing.

These have been collected with great care, and are now in the most flourishing condition. The water by which the place is almost surrounded, and a fish pond that has been made at considerable expense, afford during the summer season, fish and crabs in the utmost abundance; and in the winter the wild fowl which always throng the shores furnish a plentiful supply for the table of the proprietor, and at the same time a very lucrative article of traffic. The farm is well supplied with the ordinary game of the country, Pheasants, &c. and there are also also on it a few fallow deer. Its situation is truly delightful. It commands a noble view of the Chesapeake on the east; and on the south & west the Magothy river, and the country on the opposite shore presents a beautiful landscape. The improvements are a commodious frame dwelling house, servants' house, ice house, stables, &c.

This estate will, for the accommodation of purchasers, be divided into three parcels of about two hundred and fifty acres each, every part being bounded on one side by the water.

Any person who is disposed to purchase may have an opportunity of viewing the property at any time previous to the day of sale, by calling on Mr. John Gibson, who at present resides on it, and who will point out the boundaries between the different parcels.

THE TERMS OF SALE

Are, one fourth cash, and the remainder to be paid in four equal annual instalments. Bonds with approved security will be required for the payment of that portion of purchase money for which credit allowed. On the payment of the whole of the purchase money deeds conveying the land will be executed. The sale will take place on the premises.

THE CORAL GROVE.

Deep in the woods of a Coral grove,
Where the purple mullet, and gold-fish rove, Where the sea-flowers spread their leaves of blue,
That never are wet with falling dew,
Yet in bright and cheerful beauty shine, Far down in the green and glassy brine.
The floor is of sand, like the mountain drift,
And the pearl shells spangle the flinty snow;
From coral rocks the sea plants lift Their boughs, where the tides and billows flow:
The water is calm and still below,
For the winds and waves are absent there,
And the sands are bright as the stars, that glow.
In the motionless fields of upper air,
There with its waving blade of green,
The sea flag streams through the silent water;
And the crimson leaf of the dulse is seen To blush, like a banner bath'd in slaughter:
There with a light and easy motion, The fan coral sweeps thro' the clear deep sea:
And the yellow and scarlet tufts of ocean,
Are bending, like corn, on the upland lea:
Is sporting amid those bowers of stone, And is safe, when the wrathful spirit of storms,
Has made the top of the wave his own:
And when the ship from his fury flies Where the myriad voices of ocean roar, When the wind god frowns in the mark-skies,
And demons are waiting the wreck of shore;
Then far below, in the peaceful sea,
The purple mullet, and gold-fish rove,
Where the water is calm and tranquil,
Through the bending twigs of the coral grove.

EXTRACT—FROM COWPER.

Happy the man who sees a God employed,
In all the good and ill that chequer life!
Resolving all events, with their effects And manifold results, into the will Of God: and then, in the calm of his Did not his eye rule all things, and intend The least of our concerns, (since from the least
The greatest oft originate); could chance Find place in his dominions, or dispose One lawless particle to thwart his plan;
Then God might be surpris'd, and unfor-seen Contingence might alarm him, and disturb
The smooth and equal course of his affairs.

OF DIVINE PROVIDENCE.

He is not a man of sense who denies either the Being or the Providence of God; there is no wisdom in Atheism; it is "the fool" who says in his heart there is no God." And surely to imagine, that he who made the world, should take no care of the world, which he hath made, but, as it were, forgetting that he had made it, should deliver it up to chance and fate, is an opinion equally foolish with the other. There are some who say now, that there is a
